Message from the Chief Jeri L. Williams

I am pleased to introduce the Phoenix Police Department's 2017-19 Strategic Plan. The direction provided in this Plan will serve to strengthen your Police Department and improve our capacity to meet this City's public safety needs over the next two years.

As your Police Chief, I have worked to continue building on past successes of the Phoenix Police Department while implementing some of my own philosophies and experiences. The Strategic Plan formalizes our path forward. It is grounded on five main areas that are a blend of my experiences, input I've received from our community and a continuation of strategies supporting the Phoenix Police Department's tradition of excellence and guiding values. The objectives and strategies contained in this plan will support each of the following focus areas:

Crime Suppression and Prevention: Keeping the City of Phoenix among the safest major cities in the country is our top priority. The strategies in this plan will help us improve our crime suppression and response capabilities and further develop our crime prevention efforts in partnership with you and all of our community stakeholders.

Community Engagement and Outreach: It is vitally important that we work together and create partnerships so you feel we are available to you. This Plan includes strategies that promote opportunities for community collaboration with mutual responsibility between you and your Police Department so we can engage in productive activities that support communication, transparency and accountability.

Hiring, Training and Retention: Effectively staffing the Police Department and making sure your police officers are highly trained is essential to our future. We will continue to select the best candidates that reflect our own Phoenix community, provide them the best training and offer leadership development to ensure your Police Department remains one of the best law enforcement agencies in the country.

Employee Well-Being: Exceptional delivery of law enforcement services is at its best when your officers are healthy. The strategies in this plan will support wellness programs and resources to help us evaluate and implement policies that benefit everyone.

Increase Legitimacy: By bringing this all together, we increase our legitimacy with you, the community we serve.

This Plan takes a unified approach that I call the Power of One – One Team, One Voice, One Department, One City. I believe the community, the Phoenix Police Department and the City of Phoenix are One Team and the best way to achieve our long-term goals is to start the problem-solving process together allowing us to find solutions that serve us all.

I am truly blessed to be your Police Chief, and I want to thank you for your continued support and partnership. This bond will serve to build our sense of trust and community as we move forward into the future. A future that includes the police and the community as one voice.

South Phoenix History

When you drive through South Phoenix, you can tell that many of the neighborhoods have a great story to tell. Well, that is no different in the area at 24th Street and Broadway Road. This neighborhood of Phoenix known as "Four Corners" is rich in heritage and history. In the Four Corners, you can see residents have a deep love for their neighborhoods dating back for some of the residents, over 60 years. This love and history is depicted in a special piece of art, a five panel bronze artwork found on the wall of the Broadway Heritage Neighborhood Resource Center at 24 Street and Broadway Road. The art work shows the history and cultural diversity of the surrounding Four Corners neighborhood. The artist's worked with the community to collect anecdotes, photographs, and artifacts, which the artists use to develop the images for the panels. The images include a 1930's school room scene, a 1940's poultry farm, a 1950's era night club, and other captions that illustrate the tradition of Four Corners. Next time you in the area look for this historical art work.

Summer HEAT!

More than 200 hikers annually are rescued from City of Phoenix desert and mountain parks and preserves. This simple checklist can help keep you from becoming a statistic.

Watch the Weather:

Yes, "it's a dry heat" – but Arizona's temperature can be deceiving and deadly. Hike when it's cool outside, try early mornings and evenings when there's more shade.

Dress Appropriately:

Wear proper shoes, clothing, hat and sunscreen.

Bring Water:

Hydrate before you go. Have plenty of water, more than you think you need. Turn around and head back to the trailhead before you drink half of your water.

Keep in Contact:

Carry a mobile phone.

Team Up:

Hike with others. If hiking solo, tell someone your start and end times, and location.

Be Honest:

Do you have a medical condition? Asthma, heart problems, diabetes, knee or back problems? Don't push yourself! (Even trained athletes have been caught off guard by getting dehydrated on Arizona trails.)

Don't Trailblaze:

Enjoy the Sonoran Desert's beautiful and undeveloped landscape, but please stay on designated trails.

Take Responsibility:

Don't be "that person" – the one who wasn't prepared, shouldn't have been there for health reasons or ignored safety guidelines. Be the responsible hiker, who takes a hike and does it right!
